There has always been an inherent danger in genealogy. When we dive into the ocean of family research, we never know what predators may lurk in the deep. Some of us enter the waters with the goal of proving a family story, only to learn that Grandma was not descended from an Indian princess after all but rather from a line of everyday farmers. Researchers may be disappointed to learn their ancestor owned slaves, or was prosecuted for stealing, or deserted from the army. In my own research, a court record revealed my sixth great-grandmother was involved in a “ménage à trois” with another woman and a man who was not her husband (they were outed by a nosy neighbor peeping through the window)—a discovery that amused me, but probably would not have pleased my grandmother very much.

These kinds of findings are mere child's play when compared with the discovery power of modern research tools. With the advancement of DNA technology, the genealogical sea has now become positively shark infested, and persons who take the simple spit test need to be aware of the potential danger.

In September, author Bill Griffeth published his memoir, The Stranger in My Genes (published by and available from the New England Historic Genealogical Society via the americanancestors.org website), a book that I recommend to all persons interested in learning about the pitfalls of DNA research. Griffeth had investigated his ancestry for more than ten years, and had become the unofficial historian for his family. In taking the DNA test, he was hoping to use science to confirm what he had found in his personal research. His results were staggering. They showed that his brother and a cousin on his father's side shared the same Y-DNA (passed down from father to son to grandson, etc.), but that Griffeth's Y-DNA was completely different. There was only one conclusion he could make—a “non-paternal event” had occurred (caused by an adoption, infidelity, or other causes) in the generation of his parents. In other words, the man he always knew as his father (who was deceased when the test was taken) was not his father.

Notwithstanding the psychological shock that a discovery like this would cause, especially for someone who had spent as much time researching family as Griffeth had, this raises several weighty ethical questions about how to respond to such news. In the book Griffeth relates how he wrestled with whether he should confront his 94-year-old mother who was then living in an assisted-living home. Was it more important for him to learn the truth or to spare an elderly woman from having to reveal a potentially humiliating secret?

The book goes on to show how Griffeth eventually discovered his true paternity and identified living relatives from that side of his family. Now the question became whether to contact those persons. Considering the ignominious circumstances of his birth, would they welcome him into the family, or would they shun him or refuse to believe his story?

Griffeth's struggle with these issues make for pertinent reading for anyone contemplating taking the plunge into the swirls and eddies of DNA analysis.

THE FAMILY OF WILLIAM AND SARAH (HEN[N]EY) TARR
OF GLOUCESTER, MASSACHUSETTS, AND HARPSWELL, MAINE

By Priscilla Blount

William Tarr was born in Gloucester, Massachusetts, 15 May 1724, son of Richard and Grace (Hodgkins) Tarr.¹ He was the youngest of two siblings. His sister, Hazelelpony, was born 21 December 1722.² William's father, Richard Tarr, did not live a long life. He was killed by Indians on 22 June 1724 at the age of twenty-eight while on a fishing vessel in Fox Harbour.³

William's mother, Grace, a young woman of twenty-two with two small children, married second in Gloucester, 10 November 1726, Joshua Cromwell Jr.,⁴ son of Joshua and Lydia (—) Cromwell. Joshua may have been born in Dover, New Hampshire, where both his father and grandfather owned land, but a record of his birth is not found. Joshua had married first in Falmouth, Maine, Elizabeth Larrabee, daughter of Benjamin and Deborah (Ingersoll) Larrabee.⁵ Elizabeth was born about 1704,⁶ and Joshua, if a few years older, was born say 1700–2. Elizabeth died 13 April 1725, probably from childbirth complications, leaving Joshua with an infant daughter, also named Elizabeth, born the same day.⁷

Joshua Cromwell served from 23 September 1723 to May 1724 in Exeter, New Hampshire, on a military expedition as a private in Sgt. Nathan Knight's company. His name is on a muster roll indicating he also served under the command of Col. Thomas Westbrook, from 28 November 1724 to 22 May 1725, for a total of twenty-nine weeks and four days.⁸

By 1727 Joshua, Grace, and the children had settled in Falmouth, where he was granted land. The birth of their daughter Lydia was recorded there on 19 May 1728.⁹ Records indicate that by 1737 Joshua Cromwell was an early settler of Great Island (Harpwell). He was among the many proprietors to petition the General Court for the annexation of Merriconeag Bay by Brunswick.¹⁰ He was last recorded as signing a petition from Kennebunk in 1760.¹¹

William undoubtedly grew up in Maine with his mother and stepfather. He was living on Merriconeag Neck by 1748. His marriage intentions were published that year in Brunswick on 11 July 1748 to “Mrs. Sarah Heney not in bounds of any township.”¹² (In the Brunswick records at this time, most of the brides were given the title “Mrs.” as an honorific, not as an indication of prior marital status.) Heney was an uncommon name in New England and no other instances of it (or possible spelling variations) are found in the Brunswick vital records. Assuming Sarah was William’s age or a few years younger, she was born say 1724–30. A candidate for her was finally discovered in the York, Maine, vital records:¹³

Joseph Heney his Children born in York of Sarah his Wife the Daughter of Thomas Baker viz

1. Mary Heney, born July 28. 1724.
2. Sarah Heney born Feb^{ry} 2^d. 1725/6.
3. Joseph Heney born Feb^{ry} 21. 1727/8.
4. #Rachel Heney born April. 21. 1730.¹⁴

Sarah Heney, born in 1725/6, meets the age criteria to be William Tarr’s wife in 1748. Since a number of York families in this time period moved down the coast to the Brunswick-Harpwell area, the marriage in Brunswick would not have been an anomaly. Several other persons with this unusual surname are found in the early Harpswell records. Zebulon Heney and Sarah Ward married in Harpswell on 4 May 1754, and their first child, Joseph, was baptized there 21 December 1755.¹⁵ A few years later, on 10 February 1762, Nehemiah Ward and Hannah Henney were married in Harpswell.¹⁶

If these were first marriages, both Zebulon and Hannah Henney were likely of age to be younger siblings of the four Henney children recorded in York, a supposition that is supported by Zebulon's naming his first child Joseph, possibly for his father. Furthermore, as will be shown more fully below, Sarah, as widow and administratrix of the estate of William Tarr, sold in 1762 a portion of William's land to Nehemiah Ward.¹⁷ If Sarah and Hannah Henney were indeed sisters, then Sarah's sale was to her brother-in-law. Finally, Sarah's granddaughter Sarah Adams married John Ward, son of Nehemiah and Hannah (Henney) Ward, the marriage occurring long after the family had moved to Bowdoin.¹⁸ This shows a close association between the Tarr and Ward descendants that lasted many years and spanned different locations. In the absence of any other candidates, and in consideration of the interactions among these individuals, it is concluded that Sarah Henney, born 2 February 1725/6 in York, was undoubtedly the wife of William Tarr.

The details of William's youth and adult years are unknown, and records concerning his life in Harpswell are sparse. A deed, however, illuminates his ownership of land and the location of his homestead. On 1 December 1759, six months before his death, William Tarr of Harpswell, yeoman, conveyed to Nehemiah and Ezekiel Curtis, for £13 6s. 8d., eight acres of land in Harpswell on Merriconeg Neck. The land was described as beginning in the Middle of the Creek at a stake & heap of Stones; and running Southwest Twenty four Rods & three Quarters to a Rock Maple standing on M^r Alexanders line; Then running Southeast Fifty Eight Rods and a half to Mericonege River; Then running on Sundry Courses on Wedgeon Cove to the stake and stones first mentioned.¹⁹

William died 9 June 1760 and is buried in the Old Harpswell Common Burying Ground. His tombstone has a winged skull on it with the inscription: "Here lies interr'd the Remains of Mr. William Tarr in the 40th y of his age. Prepare to follow me."²⁰ The gravestone inscription is inconsistent with the published vital records of Gloucester. Based on his birth on 15 May 1724 and his death on 9 June 1760, William died in the 37th year of his age, not the 40th.

In 1753 Rev. Elisha Eaton became the first pastor of the First Congregational Church of Harpswell.²¹ As members, William and Sarah brought their four children to the church for baptism:²²

 Joseph, son to William Tarr and Sarah is wife, bapt. in infancy Aug. 27, 1758

The baptismal records of Rev. Eaton do not reveal any other children of William and Sarah, but, having married in 1748, it is likely they were the parents of children born before 1753 and thus not recorded. As shown below, one such child was Sarah Tarr who married Thomas Adams in Harpswell on 5 October 1775.²³

William's death in 1760 left Sarah with a handful of young children in her care. Four years later she married Edward Cumberford, their Harpswell intentions dated 10 August 1764.²⁴ Edward was in the French and Indian War, having served under the command of Capt. William Lithgow at Fort Richmond from 27 March to 21 November 1754.²⁵ No record of Edward's parentage, birth, or death has been found.

As administrator of his father's estate, William Tarr [Jr.] of Harpswell sold on 27 February 1777, for £60 to Hugh Alexander of Harpswell, twenty-five acres of land, being formerly the estate of William Tarr of Harpswell, deceased. The land adjoined to the southeast and southwest land of William and Hugh Alexander.

. . . In witness whereof, I do hereunto set my hand & seal, Together with my Sisters Sara Adams & Grace Adams with their respective Husbands Thomas and John Adams, the Heirs of the aforesaid William Tarr deceased, as giving up all their Right & Title to and in the Premises, together with my Mother Sara Cumberford, as giving up all her Power of thirds in and to the Premises. . . .²⁶

The deed was signed by William Tarr, Thomas Adams, Sarah Adams, John Adams, Sarah Conderford [sic], Joseph Tarr,²⁷ and Grace Adams. This deed establishes the names of William's surviving children in 1777, as well as their mother, Sarah Cumberford, and the daughters' spouses. Daughter Betty Tarr and Sarah's husband Edward Cumberford were not named and were presumably deceased.

On 15 September 1786, Sarah Cumberford, now of "a New Plantation commonly called west Bowdoinham . . . Widow & Administratrix on the Estate of my former Husband, William Tarr, late of Harpswell . . . Deceased," confirmed to [her brother-in-law] Nehemiah Ward of Harpswell, for £40, twenty acres of land that Nehemiah had bought at public auction on 10 August 1762 (possibly in connection with the settlement of William's estate), "bounded on the Meeting House land, and on the neck in said Harpswell."²⁸

GENEALOGICAL SUMMARY

WILLIAM TARR was born in Gloucester, Massachusetts, 15 May 1724, son of Richard and Grace (Hodgkins) Tarr.²⁹ He died 9 June 1760 in Harpswell and is buried in the Old Harpswell Common Burying Ground.³⁰ He married SARAH HEN[N]EY whose residence was given as “not in bounds of any town,” their intentions recorded in Brunswick, 11 July 1748.³¹ Sarah was born in York, 2 February 1725/6, daughter of Joseph and Sarah (Baker) Henney.³² She married second Edward Cumberland, their intentions recorded in Harpswell, 10 August 1764.³³ He may have died before 27 February 1777 when Sarah relinquished her share in property owned by her former husband, William Tarr.³⁴ Sarah was living in the plantation of West Bowdoinham [set off as Bowdoin in 1788] on 15 September 1786, when she sold land as administratrix of the estate of William Tarr.³⁵

Thomas Adams and his future brothers-in-law, William and Joseph Tarr, on 20 May 1775 enlisted as privates in Capt. James Curtis’s company, Col. Phinney’s regiment.⁴¹ In the latter part of Aug. 1775, the company, now part of Col. James Cargill’s regiment, was stationed in Harpswell defending the seacoast. The following year Thomas was commissioned an ensign and served in a company led by Capt. Winthrop Boston. The Provincial Congress ordered that all soldiers who had enlisted in the Colony service in the year 1775 should be furnished with a good blanket. Included on the list were Thomas Adams as well as William and Joseph Tarr.⁴²

On 10 March 1777, Adam Adams of Harpswell sold to [his brother] Thomas Adams, for £53-6-8, land in Harpswell lying between land owned by Robert Spear and John Adams, “it being the third Part of said Lot which was will’d to me by my Father Nathan Adams . . . with my Part of the House and Barn.” The deed, signed Adam Adams and wife Mary, was witnessed by Sarah Cumberford and Samuel Dolley.⁴³ Thomas was described as “Resident on Said Lot of Land . . . said Land laying in Harpswell,” indicating he had not yet moved to Bowdoin.

Thomas was living in Bowdoin in 1790, when he was enumerated as the head of a household consisting of nine members: 4 males under 16 (sons Nathan, Thomas, Adam, one unidentified), one male over 16 (Thomas), and four females (daughter Sarah, mother Sarah, and two unidentified).⁴⁴ The unidentified persons may be unrecorded children born prior to the removal to Bowdoin, as there is a large gap between the birth of Nathan and the first recorded child, son Thomas, in 1784.⁴⁵ By 1800 son Nathan was married and had established his own household in Bowdoin, adjacent to Joseph Tarr.⁴⁶ Thomas’s household that year probably included Samuel, 8, Adam, 11, Thomas, 16, father Thomas, 50, Lydia, 6, Sarah, 13, one unidentified female 16–25, and mother Sarah, aged 50–52.⁴⁷

Sarah’s Revolutionary War widow’s pension file includes statements by her sons Nathan and Adam concerning Thomas’s war service. Two other surviving children, daughters Sarah Adams and Lydia Galusha, are also named.⁴⁸

- ii GRACE TARR, bp. Harpswell, 7 Oct. 1753;⁶⁸ m. Harpswell, 24 Sept. 1772, JOHN ADAMS,⁶⁹ born there, say 1753, son of Nathan and Sarah (Allen) Adams.⁷⁰ John's birth date assumes he was two years younger than his brother Thomas (who married Grace's sister Sarah Tarr) and thus about the same age as Grace. Unlike Thomas, however, there is no baptism recorded for John in York. Both John and Grace were living in Bowdoin in 1820,⁷¹ but it is uncertain when and where they died (see further discussion below).

On 1 March 1784, for £180, John Adams of Harpswell, yeoman, with the consent of his wife Grace, sold 72 acres of land in Harpswell to John Jordan Jr., "together with two thirds of the Dwelling house and all the Barn . . . and all the fence standing thereon." The land was bounded by the corner of lands formerly owned by Nathan Adams, deceased.⁷² This may have been about the time that John and Grace moved from Harpswell to Bowdoin, where the births of their twelve children are recorded.

John headed a large household in Bowdoin in 1790 made up of three males under 16, two males 16 and over, and four females.⁷³ The Massachusetts and Maine Direct Tax of 1798 records John "Addams" as the owner of 100 acres in Bowdoin with a dwelling house valued at $15.⁷⁴ Four additional family members joined the household by 1800.⁷⁵ John and Grace were enumerated in the 1820 census of Bowdoin with one female, aged 26–44, in the family. She may have been their youngest daughter, not yet married.⁷⁶

Clason claims that it was this John Adams who died in Litchfield, Maine, in 1830.⁷⁷ Other sources say it was John's son who died that year.⁷⁸ The Litchfield vital records do include the death of a John Adams on 30 Oct. 1830,⁷⁹ but the entry does not clarify if the record pertains to the father or the son. Though not proven, it seems more likely to be the son who died that year, as he did move to Litchfield, whereas there are no records to show that the father ever lived there.

male 60–69. Lydia may have been Joseph's 2nd wife. Joseph was enumerated in Bowdoin in 1830, aged 50–59, with a female, aged 50–59, who could not possibly be Lydia (Joseph Galusha household, 1830 U.S. Census, Bowdoin, Lincoln Co., Maine, p. 330).

Joseph, two years younger than William, enlisted on 20 May 1775 for 8m as a private in the same company as his brother and future brother-in-law Thomas Adams. He reenlisted in Jan. 1776 in the same company under the command of Capt. Boston, serving at Dorchester and Cambridge. Again, in May 1776, he entered the service and saw duty during the Siege of Boston. After his last engagement in Jan. 1777, serving in the regiment commanded by Col. Fogg in the Mass. line, he was verbally discharged on April 1777 at Peekskill, N.Y.¹⁴⁸

Prior to his last service engagement, Joseph and his brother William, on 7 Jan. 1777, purchased 50 acres of land on Merriconeag Neck from Edward Cunningham for £150, it being a part of lot #4, bounded southwesterly on land of the heirs of William Tarr deceased.¹⁴⁹ Joseph retained his share of the property until 1801 and then sold it to William for 200 Spanish milled dollars.¹⁵⁰ On 3 Oct. 1778, Joseph Booker and his wife, Prudence, sold to Joseph and William 39 acres on Sebascodegan Island for £133 6s., it being in lot #11 in the 2nd division. The purchase included an additional 11 acres along the Merriconeag River.¹⁵¹

Upon his discharge from the service, Joseph returned to Harpswell. Within the next ten years, he moved to Brunswick and Bowdoinham, finally settling down in Bowdoin, where he remained the rest of his life.¹⁵² In 1840, now a widower, he was a head of household in Bowdoin, aged 82y. The household numbered ten, spanned three generations, and probably included his son Joseph's family.¹⁵³

The gravestone clearly reads “Died March 13, 1872 Æ 77 yrs.” On that death date, however, she would have been 87 years old, not 77. On further examination, it appears the error on the gravestone may not be in the age at death, but rather in the date of death. Susannah was living in Sangerville at the time of the 1860 census, aged 75y (Asa Towns household, 1860 U.S. Census, Sangerville, Piscataquis Co., Maine, p. 929, #176/176), but she is not found there, or elsewhere, in the 1870 census. She may have died in 1862 rather than 1872.

THE FAMILIES OF SAMUEL AND NATHANIEL CUMMINGS OF KENNEBEC COUNTY, MAINE

By Joseph C. Anderson II, FASG

(concluded from p. 117)

3 NATHANIEL⁵ CUMMINGS (Samuel⁴, John³, Isaac²⁻¹) was born in Stoughton, Massachusetts, 8 May 1743.²³³ He died in Augusta, Maine, 4 January 1814, aged 72 years, exactly one week after the death of his son Nathaniel Jr.²³⁴ Nathaniel married, first, in Stoughton, 15 November 1770, CHLOE FORREST,²³⁵ whose birth date and parentage are unknown,²³⁶ and who died in Stoughton, 16 March 1773.²³⁷ As a resident of Stoughtonham, Nathaniel married, secondly, in Dedham, Massachusetts, 27 April 1775, ELIZABETH WHITE.²³⁸ Elizabeth was baptized in Dedham, 28 April 1754, daughter of Benjamin and Sarah (Talbot) White.²³⁹ Her date of death has not been found.²⁴⁰ On 25 January 1814, Elizabeth told the probate court: “I have given up to [son-in-law and son] John Dutton and Samuel Comings to settle [Nathaniel’s] estate.”²⁴¹ She was still living on 31 October 1815, when the administrators sold the future reversion of her dower in order to pay debts owed by Nathaniel’s estate.²⁴² On 11 July 1815, [her brother] Joel White of Winthrop, was made her guardian, Elizabeth then adjudged non compos mentis and unable to care for herself. The inventory of her estate, dated the next day, totaled $120.44, and included two cows, a hog, two sheep, a horse sleigh, four tons of grass, corn, potatoes, flax, wheat, oats, peas, apples, and an assortment of small household items.²⁴³

The births and baptisms of Nathaniel’s children reveal that the family moved from Stoughtonham [Sharon] to Dedham, Massachusetts, between 1785 and 1787.

²³⁶ She was possibly an unrecorded daughter of John Forest Jr. of Stoughton and Sarah Welman of Norton, Mass., who m. Stoughton, 13 July 1749 (Vital Records of Norton, Massachusetts, to the Year 1850 [Boston, 1906], 236), but the identification is unproven.

²³⁸ Hanson, Dedham VRs, 245.

²⁴⁰ Unless she was the otherwise unidentified “Mrs. Cummings,” who d. Augusta, 26 June 1829, aged 68 [sic] (Augusta VRs, 2:276).

²⁴³ Elizabeth Comings, non compos mentis, Kennebec Co. Probate Records, C-6-R.

Two important deeds illuminate Elizabeth's extended family. On 2 January 1787, Nathaniel Comings of Dedham, yeoman, received from the heirs of the widow Sarah White, late of Dedham, deceased, a quitclaim deed for the homestead farm in Dedham.²⁴⁴ Seven years later, 1 March 1794, Nathaniel Comings of Dedham, yeoman, purchased from Sarah's heirs the "land set off as thirds to Sarah White widow of Benjamin White."²⁴⁵

Nathaniel "Cummins" was enumerated in Dedham in 1790, his household containing a male 16 and above [Nathaniel], two males under 16 [Nathaniel Jr. and Samuel], and six females [wife Elizabeth and daughters Susanna, Chloe, Lucy, Betsey, and Mary].²⁴⁶ The 1800 census of Augusta indicates that family moved from Massachusetts to Maine in 1795, where Nathaniel's brother Samuel was already living.²⁴⁷ On 1 February 1796, Nathaniel Comings of Hallowell, yeoman, purchased from Samuel Comings of Hallowell, yeoman, two tracts of land on the west side of the Kennebec River, being parts of lots 6 and 7 in the third range, comprising nearly fifty-five acres.²⁴⁸ Over the years, Nathaniel bought and sold other tracts of land in Augusta. When he died, his real estate was appraised at $1537.34, and was made up of the thirty-two-acre homestead farm in Augusta, being the westerly end of lot No. 7, eight acres lying south of the road opposite Nathaniel's house, being part of lot No. 6, and forty acres of land "being part of the gore laying to the west side of the 3^d Mile and bounded on the north by Comings brook." The personal estate consisted of livestock, farming equipment, household furniture, wearing apparel, provisions, and notes of hand—the total appraised at $565.30.²⁴⁹

²⁴⁵ Norfolk Co. Deeds, 5:146. The heirs named were: Ruth Comings, John White, Joel White (described as "children of Benjamin White late of Dedham decd & Sarah his wife"); J. Cemetery, Belgrade.²⁶⁶ Samuel had m. (1) Vassalboro, Maine, 6 March 1795, Nancy Tiffany of Sidney, who d. Augusta, 18 Feb. 1809.²⁶⁷ Chloe and her sister Lucy witnessed a deed dated 21 April 1792, when Nathaniel and Elizabeth Cummings of Dedham, Mass., sold to Benjamin Hanse of Walpole, Mass., meadow land in Pigeon Swamp in Sharon, Mass.²⁶⁸ On 1 July 1811, Chloe Comings witnessed a deed in which [her brothers-in-law] Ahasuerus Dutton and John Dutton of Sidney sold a part of lot No. 35 in Sidney to [her brother] Samuel Comings 3^d of Augusta.²⁶⁹ She is undoubtedly the same Chloe Cummings who made a $64.40 claim against the estate of Nathaniel Cummings late of Augusta, as noted in an administrator's account dated 22 Nov. 1815.²⁷⁰ Samuel Titcomb came to Hallowell about 1783, where he was a merchant and the second postmaster. He moved to Belgrade in 1815, and built with John Pitts an academy known as the Titcomb Belgrade Academy.²⁷¹

On 1 Sept. 1807, Ahasuerus Dutton and John Dutton contracted with Kennebec proprietor James Bowdoin of Boston to purchase the two hundred acres in Sidney where they were already living, the transaction being finalized on 18 April 1812, when Ahasueurus and John paid Bowdoin's widow, Sarah, $1200 for the property. The land was described as comprising the southerly two-thirds of lot No. 35 in the 2nd range of lots.²⁸¹ On 1 July 1811, Ahasuerus and John sold about fifty acres of this property to their brother-in-law, Samuel Comings 3^d.²⁸² On 5 Aug. 1815, Ahasuerus purchased from Andrew Rogers of Augusta fifty acres in lot No. 32 in Sidney.²⁸³

Ahasuerus Dutton of Sidney, husbandman, "being in a low state of bodily health," made his will on 5 June 1820.²⁸⁴ In it he named his wife Lucy, his three sons David, Nathaniel, and Charles Dutton, and his three minor daughters Nancy, Eliza, and Paulina Dutton, and named his brother John Dutton executor. The inventory, ordered 26 Sept. 1820 and totaling $1681.51, included the home farm of about 87 acres in Sidney in lots No. 32 and 35, other parcels of land, and personal estate typical of a prosperous farmer.²⁸⁵ On 29 Nov. 1831, Lucy Dutton of Sidney, widow, requested that James Shaw of Sidney, gentleman, be appointed guardian of her youngest son, Charles Dutton, a minor under fourteen years of age.²⁸⁶

Not long afterwards John was living in Sidney, where Betsey's brother Samuel Cummings 2d and brothers-in-law Ahasuerus and John Dutton also lived. John Briggs and his family reportedly moved to Corinna in 1816 and were listed there from 1820 to 1870 in census records. In his will dated 1 Aug. 1870, John Briggs of Corinna named daughters Sophia E. Mower of Corinna, Mary Ann Blaisdell of Corinna, and Harriet J. John Dutton served with his brother-in-law Samuel Cummings 2^d as administrators of Nathaniel Cummings's estate in 1814–15. John and his brother Asahuerus Dutton jointly owned property in Sidney where they lived and farmed, and they sold fifty acres to Samuel in 1811.³¹⁴ On 15 May 1819, John Dutton of Sidney bought for $625 from Andrew Rogers of Augusta 62½ acres, being part of lot No. 20 in Augusta on the second mile west of the Kennebec River.³¹⁵ He may have moved to Augusta at this time, as he was styled John Dutton of Augusta in later deeds.³¹⁶

On 13 Sept. 1828, Mary Dutton of Augusta, widow, was appointed administratrix of the estate of her late husband, John Dutton of Augusta, yeoman. The inventory valued the estate at $4384.57, with real estate of $2523.50, made up of the homestead farm in Augusta, one half of a sawmill, and a lot of land owned in common ³⁴¹ Mary’s parentage is proved by the quitclaim deed to Albert Smith [note 344]. Further proof is found in a newspaper notice relating to the disposition of Ichabod Pitts’s estate, published in the [Augusta] Age, issue of 18 June 1839, p. 3 [accessed via genealogybank.com], which reads in part: “Samuel Comings 2d of Sidney in said County, and Mary Comings, wife of said Samuel, and Adam Pitts of Centreville in the County of Allegany and State of New York, respectfully represent that the said Mary Comings and the said Adam Pitts are children and heirs of Ichabod Pitts, late of Sidney, aforesaid, deceased. . . .” Ichabod Pitts of Hallowell m. Stoughton, Mass., 9 Oct. 1788, Mary Blackman of Stoughton (Endicott, Stoughton VRs, 238).

Ichabod Pitts led a sad life and had a violent death, as revealed in this notice from the Bangor Weekly Register, 12 April 1831, p. 3: “HORRID DEATH. On Thursday 31st ult. Mr. Ichabod Pitts, of Sidney, was burned to death in the most shocking manner. He had been subject to derangement for 37 years, and during the last six years he had been kept in a strong cage, which stood a few feet from the fire, in a building prepared for his confinement. More than once he had contrived to draw out coals and set the building on fire by tearing his clothes into strips and throwing one end of them through the grates of his cage into the fire. On Thursday, the house was discovered to be in flames, whether communicated by a spark or otherwise, it is not known, and before they could be extinguished, life was gone, and a considerable part of the body consumed. One of the feet was burned entirely off. A friend had left the house not 20 minutes before the fire was discovered. Mr. Pitts originated in Taunton, Massachusetts, if we recollect.”

ton served as administrators of Nathaniel Cummings's estate. Samuel lived most of his adult life in Sidney, where his children were recorded. By 1850, however, he and Mary, aged 64 and 55 years, respectively, were living in Kingsbury Plantation with their children Emeline, Charles N., and Mary A., in a household headed by Stephen Decker who would marry daughter Mary A. Cummings two years later.³⁴³

On 5 Feb. 1844, Samuel Comings 2^d of Sidney, in consideration of $100 paid by Albert Smith of Sidney, quitclaimed "all the right, title and interest in and to the homestead farm of Ichabod Pitts or Pitts farm, so called, in Sidney . . . containing one third part of about twenty nine and two thirds acres more or less." The deed was signed by Samuel Comings 2^d "and Mary Comings wife of the Samuel Comings 2^d in token of her relinquishing all her right and title in said premises."³⁴⁴ This deed indicates that Mary had inherited her share of the property upon the death of Ichabod Pitts, her father.³⁴⁵

Buried in the same plot as Sarah is her son Otis D. If Sarah Libby is the same Sally Cummings baptized in Dedham in 1795, her baptism several years after her birth (and after the baptism of her brother Billy) cannot be readily explained. Nevertheless, there is room in Nathaniel's family for a daughter b. 1789–92, and, if true, it eliminates the problem of both Sally and Ruth, below, supposedly being born about 1795.]

³⁷⁰ Nathaniel Comings estate, Kennebec Co. Probate Records, C-6-R.

Ruth and Jesse Green were divorced in the May 1837 term of the Kennebec Co. Supreme Judicial Court, when Ruthy Green of Sidney declared that “on the eleventh day of May in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and nineteen she was lawfully joined in marriage with Jesse Green then of Augusta, and hath ever since conducted herself agreeably to her marriage vows. Yet the said Jesse Green regardless of his marriage covenants, did in the month of August in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and twenty nine wilfully and without any reasonable cause, desert your libellant, remove from the State and hath ever since continued out of said State, made no provision for the support of said libellant and his children, and hath ever since remained in facto to your libellant unknown. Whereby the said Ruthy Green prays that she may be divorced from the bonds of matrimony, and that the same may be deemed null and void between them.”³⁷¹

The evidence indicates that Jesse had run off to Ohio with Ruth’s 22-year-old niece, Martha M. Dutton, daughter of John and Mary (Cummings) Dutton (above), leaving Ruth behind in Maine to fend for herself with the care of their four young children. In 1830 Jesse Green, aged 30–40y, was in Salt Creek, Muskingum Co., Ohio, with the only other member of his household that year being a woman aged 20–30, probably Martha.³⁷² It appears that Jesse and Martha had four children in Ohio before they finally married, on 25 Aug. 1846 in Muskingum Co.³⁷³ In 1850 Jesse Green, aged 50y, farmer, and Martha M., aged 42y, were in Malta, Morgan Co., Ohio, with their children Amos Green, aged 16y, Ruel Green, aged 14y, John Green, aged 8y, and Lucretia Green, aged 4y.³⁷⁴ Their son Ruel was called “Reuel D. Green” in his father’s 1876 will, strongly suggesting that he was named for Martha’s brother Reuel Dutton who had d. in 1834 (see above), and supporting the conclusion that Ruel was Martha’s child, born ten years before her marriage to Jesse. Jesse and Martha remained in Ohio until 1857, when they “came to Vernon county [Wisc.]. . . . He subsequently removed to Sparta, where he died in 1882. His wife died while in Viroqua town in 1876.”³⁷⁵ In 1870 Jesse, aged 70y, farmer, and Martha, aged 63y, were living in Sparta, Monroe Co., Wisc.³⁷⁶ On 20 May 1876, sixteen days after Martha’s death, Jesse Green “of the County of Vernon, state of Wisconsin,” wrote his will, naming his three daughters from his marriage to Ruth—Caroline Wremick [sic], Louisa Osborne, and “daughter Brown”—and also naming his children with Martha, namely Permelia Ann Seaman, Amos W. Green, Reuel D. Green, John E. Green, and Lucretia Snyder.³⁷⁷ Jesse m. (3) Springville, Vernon Co., Wisc., 22 March 1878, Elizabeth (Peabody) Hadley.³⁷⁸

Meanwhile, Ruth never remarried. In 1850 and 1855, she was in Cambridge, Mass., with her son-in-law and daughter, Adolphus and Sarah L. Osborne, and was still liv-

undoubtedly the Rebecca Allen whose birth is recorded in Dresden, Maine, as occurring 12 July 1800, daughter of Lemuel and Lucy (Parris) Allen,³⁹⁷ d. Augusta, 25 July 1872, aged 70y 13d.³⁹⁸ On 22 Feb. 1814, “Ruth Comings & Asa Comings, minors above the age of fourteen years, & children of Nathaniel Comings late of Augusta Deceased,” requested that “Samuel Comings 2^d” of Augusta, husbandman, be appointed their guardian, he signing the petition as “Asa Cumings.”³⁹⁹

Asa lived all of his life in Augusta, where he was described as a farmer in 1850 and 1860.⁴⁰⁰ On 6 March 1819, Asa Cummings of Augusta, yeoman, purchased via mortgage from Robert and Elizabeth Brinley of Tyngsboro, Mass., seventy-five acres in Augusta located on the west side of the Kennebec River, being a part of lot No. 32.⁴⁰¹ It appears that Asa received another mortgage on the property from his brother Samuel Cummings 2d of Sidney on 29 Oct. 1833.⁴⁰²

Asa Cummings of Augusta, “being in ill health,” made his will 1 Dec. 1866.⁴⁰³ In it he named his wife Rebecca Cummings, sons James L., Lemuel A., Otis D., and Henry A. Cummings, daughters Lucy S. Rogers and Harriet M. Saunders, grandson Charles Smith [son of Elizabeth (Cummings) Smith], and grandson Frederick Ellsworth Cummings [son of Richard L. Cummings], who was to be maintained out of Asa’s estate until he reached 15y of age. Son Henry A. Cummings was named residuary legatee. In 1870 Rebecca Cummings, aged 66y, was living in the family of her son Henry A. Cummings.⁴⁰⁴

In 1850 and 1860, Rebecca was aged 44 and 56y, respectively [note 394], and in 1870 she was aged 66y (H. A. Cummings household, 1850 U.S. Census, Augusta, Kennebec Co., Maine, pp. 109–10).

THE FAMILIES OF SAMUEL AND NATHANIEL CUMMINGS
OF HALLOWELL AND AUGUSTA, MAINE

Additions and Corrections to Part 1⁴²⁷

Page 108: I was mistaken in proposing that Samuel⁷ Cummings (1799–1871) was “prob. the Samuel Cummings ‘2d’ of Augusta who m. (1) (int.) Augusta, 29 Aug. 1821, Mrs. Sarah (—) Folsom of Hallowell.” Evidence found shows that the widow Folsom’s husband was another Samuel Cummings, and that Samuel⁷ was married only once—to Susan M. Rockwood in 1826, a marriage that lasted many years.

Soon after Part 1 was published, I received an email from Gregory S. Childs, an MGS member who lives in France. He provided two deeds showing that Samuel⁷ Cummings did not marry the widow Sarah Folsom. The deeds, dated in 1835 and 1845, respectively, call her “Sally Cummings, wife of Samuel Cummings of Augusta” and “Sally Cummings of Augusta, widow,” respectively.⁴²⁸ These descriptions would not have been legitimate if her Cummings husband was then married to another wife. Mr. Childs also found Sarah’s gravestone in Augusta’s Mt. Vernon Cemetery, indicating she was born about 1775, and thus a generation older than Samuel⁷ Cummings.

While there is no other candidate in this Cummings family for the Samuel who married the widow Folsom, a reexamination of the Augusta records revealed another Samuel, who was surely the 1821 bridegroom: “Comings, Samuel, [d.] Oct. 17, 1829, a. 93.”⁴²⁹ Instead of being a generation younger than Sarah, this Samuel was nearly 40 years older than her, and possibly also widowed in 1821. He is likely the otherwise unplaced Samuel Cummings, shown as a single male, aged 45+, in the 1820 Augusta census.⁴³⁰ A research study is currently underway to attempt to identify him. The only things that can be said about him at this point is that he was not closely related to the Cummings family discussed in this article and he appears to have arrived in the Augusta area between the 1810 and 1820 censuses.

Page 111: The parents of Joel White were Benjamin and Sarah (Talbot) White, who m. Stoughtonham, Mass., 29 Nov. 1739.⁴³¹ Joel’s mother was not Mary Little as reported in Stackpole’s History of Winthrop. A deed firmly identifies Joel as a child of “Benjamin White late of Dedham decd & Sarah his wife.”⁴³²

REVIEWS

MAINE PIONEERS NEAR THE KENNEBEC AND ANDROSCOGGIN RIVER VALLEYS, by Elizabeth Brown Calkins (South China, Maine: Sam Teddy Publishing, 2015), paperback, 491 pp., including endnotes and index, $22.95 plus postage. Order from publisher: www.samteddypublishing.com.

A family genealogist for over fifty years, Elizabeth Brown Calkins makes clear the purpose of her book in the introduction: “a combined history and genealogy.” She gives brief, informational capsules, in twenty-four pages, of towns along the Kennebec and Androscoggin Rivers, places where the author’s ancestors settled. The most expansive part of the book, almost four-hundred pages, are family genealogies of the author’s ancestors. A sampling of names includes Austin, Bubier, Fogg, Meserve, and Tuttle. The length of each genealogy, which begins with the author’s Maine pioneer, varies to the extent of when one family joins another in the author’s ancestry. Of course, the most extensive genealogy is the descendants of Ezekiel Brown, which includes Calkins’s children and grandchildren.

The author’s zeal for genealogy and giving context to her ancestors’ lives is evident throughout the book. She uses her own system of documentation, some of which appears within the family sketch, and is also listed in the form of endnotes near the book’s conclusion. Inspired by the format of Robert Charles Anderson’s Great Migration series, many family entries have the subject’s Education, Occupation, Residence, Religion, etc. Some family photographs also appear in a few sections.

Elizabeth Brown Calkins notes in her introduction, “This data base is not without errors, I am sure, but it has been documented to the best of my ability with the many years of research behind it, and perhaps it might help you find your roots. Like so many people who spend a lifetime collecting, compiling, and organizing their family history, the author undoubtedly pondered the question, “What do I do with all of this?” She can take great pride in this publication as a way of sharing her own genealogy with an audience of fellow enthusiasts.

AN ARRAY OF HOPE: SOCIAL NEWS OF HOPE, MAINE, 1888 TO 1907, by Cynthia S. DellaPenna (Raleigh, N.C.: Lineage Array Publishing, 2014), paperback, vii+682 pp., including appendices, bibliography, and every-name and select subject index, $49.50. Order from www.Lulu.com/shop.

In 1990 Anna Simpson Hardy published her History of Hope, Maine (Camden, Maine: Penobscot Press), a first-rate town history focusing on the growth and development of Hope from its earliest settlement in the 1780s through to modern times. Documentation of Hope’s families in this history was primarily confined to abstracts of the town vital records, town reports, and cemetery inscriptions—all of which give us lots of names and dates, but little in terms of information about how the people lived their daily lives.

In An Array of Hope, author DellaPenna provides a much more personal and intimate portrayal of the lives of Hope's citizens during the twenty-year period from 1888 to 1907. This very hefty book is described on the frontispiece as containing "a rural mid-coast town's history, vital records, biography, economics, and gossip from the transcribed 'social news' of the Rockland Courier-Gazette newspaper."

In the late-eighteenth and early-nineteenth centuries, the Courier-Gazette was the principal newspaper for the residents of Rockland and the nearby towns in Knox County. Like many newspapers of the day, the Courier-Gazette routinely included a "social news" column, arranged by town, as well as a section listing recent births, deaths, and marriages. DellaPenna has transcribed these items for the town of Hope from every issue of the newspaper for the twenty-year period. Chapters in the book are arranged by year, with each chapter introduced by a short summary of the major national news events of that year.

These newspaper items give the reader a detailed glimpse into the day-to-day activities of ordinary people in a rural town. There are, of course, many notices of births, deaths (often accompanied by informative obituaries), and marriages, but the bulk of the book is made up of accounts of more routine topics, including family gatherings, visits by relatives and friends, birthday and anniversary celebrations, illnesses of all kinds, gardening activities, accidents and injuries, building projects, real estate transactions, church events, and crop and livestock reports. On Saturday, 26 January 1901, for example, the paper reported that Joe and Clarence Ludwig spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ludwig; Leroy Jackson lost a nice cow on Friday, she being caught in the chain she was tied with; Mrs. Alvin Perry was on the sick list the past week; Preston Jackson was attending school at Appleton; Miss Agnes Simmons was home from Camden; David Hall had been building an ice house and will fill it in with ice from the Hobbs pond; and Ralph Knights of Rockport was in town on Sunday.

A comparison of this book's index with the names of persons enumerated in Hope in the 1900 Federal Census indicates that most of Hope's residents that year are mentioned somewhere in this book, some persons quite frequently. For family and social historians alike with Hope connections, An Array of Hope will provide "meat on the bones" biographical material that is not often possible to find in town and courthouse records alone.
